

Itz Lapidus public relations

accessAtlanta

“A Feast Of Turkey Day Dining Options In Metro Atlanta”

By: Bob Townsend

November 10, 2010

<http://www.accessatlanta.com/atlanta-holiday-guide/entertaining/a-feast-of-turkey-734691.html>

A feast of turkey day dining options in metro Atlanta

By Bob Townsend
For the AJC

Don't feel like cooking Thanksgiving dinner this year? No problem. Plenty of metro restaurants will be open on Turkey Day, Thursday, Nov. 25, offering all kinds of creative takes on traditional holiday fare. Here are a few highlights — just be sure to make your reservations early.

Livingston Restaurant and Bar, Midtown — Feast across from the fabulous Fox with Chef Zeb Stevenson's full Thanksgiving buffet and carving station, including smoked turkey breast, maple-glazed ham, brown butter spiced sweet potatoes and caramelized brussels sprouts. Reservations 11 a.m. -- 7 p.m. $45 (half-price children under 10). 659 Peachtree St., N.E., Atlanta. 404-897-5000, livingstonatlanta.com