10 POINTS NORTH PICKS FOR Rehearsal Dinner SITES

[COMPILED BY THE EDITORS OF POINTS NORTH]

You've PRACTICED HOW TO gracefully leave your dad's arm and reach for the hand of your husband-to-be, the groomsmen have been paired with the bridesmaids and everyone knows what to do and when. With those logistics behind you, it's time to relax and enjoy the rehearsal dinner. Depending on the couple, this wedding event can either be a formal affair on par with the wedding day itself or the casual counterpart for what lies ahead. Atlanta is huge and every couple is different, but the rehearsal dinner spots featured here all offer one or more private areas of varying occupancy abilities for keeping your dinner more intimate. So, without further ado, here is a roundup of rehearsal dinner venues around town.

Editor's Note: Locations listed in alphabetical order.

LIVINGSTON RESTAURANT, ATLANTA

It's been said to be glamorous and it's been said to be just plain fun. Found within the folds of the Georgian Terrace, one of Atlanta's architectural landmarks, and deemed the official restaurant of The Fox Theatre, Livingston Restaurant and Bar has become a place for locals to celebrate life's moments. And what better way to introduce Atlanta to friends and family than treating them to the culinary creations of acclaimed Executive Chef Gary Mennie, whose progressive local cuisine is an innovative, bold reflection of our local flavor and history. I know what you're thinking: You don't want to mingle with the pre- and post-theater crowd during your rehearsal dinner. Perhaps it would help to know that the two-story dining room here is technically five distinct dining areas. In addition to the bar, there is an upstairs dining room on the mezzanine level, a downstairs dining room, a charming terrace and for those in search of a small, fully private dinner, Livingston also offers an intimate, comfortable dining room with a window view of The Fox Theatre. This private dining room can accommodate up to 24 guests seated. 404-897-5000, www.livingstonatlanta.com
